

Utah rule for Access to Health Care Providers in Rural Counties

Effective July 22, 2020, the Utah rule R590-237 for Access to Health Care Providers in Rural Counties has been updated to identify changes to the lists of rural counties, independent hospitals and federally qualified health centers (FQHC). This rule allows members who reside in certain rural areas access to providers and facilities that may not participate in the UnitedHealthcare commercial network.

Members may be entitled to coverage for health care services from the following providers if they live or reside within 30 paved road miles of the listed providers, or if they live or reside in closer proximity to the listed providers than to contracted in-network providers.

Members are encouraged to check on our member website or call the number on their UnitedHealthcare® ID card for verification, as this list may change periodically. We're advising members that if they choose an out-of-network care provider, they will be responsible for any charges not covered by their health insurance plan.

If members have questions concerning their rights to see a care provider on this list, they can call the phone number on their health plan ID card. If the problem is not resolved, subscribers may contact the Utah Office of Consumer Health Assistance in the Insurance department.
